The purpose of this working paper is to provide a record of the key lists of government department strategies (GDSs) as part of the GDS Index NZ. For further details on this see www.gdsindexnz.org. These lists are discussed in detail Working Paper 2019/04 Analysis of Government Department Strategies Between 1 July 1994 and 31 December 2018: An overview.

It is the McGuinness Institute’s intention to update the Government Department Strategies Index New Zealand each year, with an eye to establishing a culture of ‘best practice’ and guidelines for devising GDSs in the public service.

This publication forms part of the 2018 GDS Index NZ. All documents listed below can be found at www.mcguinnessinstitute.org/publications and www.gdsindexnz.org.

*These strategies are identified as having both an English and te reo Māori title, a total of 25 out of 148 operational strategies on the 2018 GDS Index. However, two of the 25 are jointly held and therefore counted separately, meaning in terms of individual documents only 23 out of 148 have a te reo Māori title alongside and English one. There are also two strategies which have titles in Pasifika languages.

List J: GDSs updated since their original publication date

Note: The table below represents GDSs that we have been made aware of through the research process. This may not be a complete list as departments were not specifically asked to verify this information through the OIA process. If the original strategy and the updates are not substantially different and follow a similar approach, we have treated them as having not been updated in the sense that they have been replaced (i.e. they have not been archived). In all cases we have treated the original publication date as the publication date for the GDS Index.

Government department	GDS title	GDS number	Original publication date	Date GDS updated	What has been updated?	What has (or has not) been scored for the Index?
Department of Conservation	National Education Strategy 2010–2030	[GDS005]	March, 2011  Note: This original version of this GDS is no longer available online.	May, 2017	NK	The GDS published in May, 2017.
Inland Revenue Department	Our Corporate Strategy	[GDS020]	May – September, 2016	September 2016	One ‘strand’ has been added, other strands have not changed.	The GDS published over the six months from May – September 2016.
Ministry of Health	Reduced Waiting Times for Public Hospital Elective Services	[GDS080]	March, 2000	August 2012	Addendum document released in 2012.	The GDS published in March, 2000. Note: The addendum was not scored.
Statistics NZ	Open Data Action Plan	[GDS143]	July, 2017	First update March 2018; second update November 2018	Dates and some actions in the ‘NZ open data implementation plan’ section have been updated.	The GDS published in November, 2018.

List K: Documents not treated as GDSs

Ministry for Women	Eliminating the Public Service Gender Pay Gap: 2018–2020 Action Plan (July, 2018)	This document is a list of actions that the MfW will undertake to reduce the gender pay gap rather than a strategic-looking document. This does not meet the Institute's definition of a GDS, and this document was therefore not added to the 2018 GDS Index. See Working Paper 2019/01 – Methodology for the Government Department Strategies Index New Zealand, p. 11.	2018 OIA from MfW, emailed November 29 2018
Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment	How we support migrants (NK)	This replaced an older version of a GDS. However, the replacement strategy was written onto the New Zealand Immigration website, rather than published as a separate document. We do not consider a website to be a 'report' or 'statement', and so this does not meet the Institute's definition of a GDS. This was therefore not added to the 2018 GDS Index. See Working Paper 2019/01 – Methodology for the Government Department Strategies Index New Zealand, p. 25.	2019 OIA from MBIE, emailed 4 March 2019

List M: Budget priorities since 2006

The text in the following table is taken directly from the Budget Policy Statement documents issued by the Government of New Zealand between 2005 and 2018, where the government's priorities are outlined. Note: Budget Policy Statements are usually released the year before the Budget they relate to (the exception here is the 2012 Budget). For example, Budget Policy Statement 2006 (for the 2006 Budget), was released on 19 December 2005.

Year	Government priorities
2006	Our focus for improving economic performance will be on strengthening the drivers of long-term sustainable growth to ensure we are a high skill, high productivity and high wage economy. This will involve: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• lifting our savings levels</li> <li>• lifting productivity through working smarter</li> <li>• improving our skills and education outcomes</li> <li>• lifting our capacity to innovate</li> <li>• lifting our capacity to export and produce goods and services of higher value, and</li> <li>• modernising our infrastructure, particularly in energy, transport, and information and communication technology. (Government of New Zealand, 2005, p. 2)</li> </ul>
2007	Budget 2007 will continue to advance these areas by prioritising new funding on policies to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• further enhance New Zealand's economic transformation</li> <li>• continue to improve wellbeing for families – young and old, and</li> <li>• strengthen our sense of national identity. (Government of New Zealand, 2006, p. 6)</li> </ul>
2008	Budget 2008 will build on our achievements since 1999 and continue the Government's focus on long-term policy goals. We will be guided by an overarching principle of developing a truly sustainable New Zealand. Sustainable economic transformation remains an ongoing priority for the Government. Budget 2008 will continue our work in this area by improving New Zealand's productivity and growth trajectory, strengthening New Zealand's ability to compete internationally, and capturing value from opportunities presented by climate change and environmental sustainability. Families – Young and Old also remains an important theme for the Government. We are phasing the implementation of priorities in this area across years, focusing on Early Years, Effective Interventions, and Eliminating Family Violence in Budget 2008. New Zealand's transformation must continue to be based on opportunity and security for all. Confidence and Supply agreements will feature prominently in Budget 2008, with our agreements with NZ First to keep NZ Super at 66% of the average wage and to phase in the final tranche of the 1,000 frontline police and 250 non-sworn staff. The Health package for 2008 will be $750 million per annum and, along with our commitment to world-class education and social services, will continue to reinforce the foundations needed for a successful modern nation. In Budget 2008 we will continue our strong focus on building on New Zealand's uniqueness national identity. Understanding our past is central to this, and as such the Government will focus on connecting with, understanding, and celebrating our heritage. We will continue to advance initiatives which promote a cohesive society – one which has a strong sense of community, and a relationship between Māori and the Crown where both parties look forward to the potential of the future. We also intend to continue to strengthen New Zealand's presence on the world stage, so that we are recognised as a nation with a principled and independent perspective, and which maintains the quality of our environment. (Government of New Zealand, 2007, pp. 6-7)

2009	We have a medium-term strategy to continually drive productivity growth improvements extending into investment, lifting education standards and value for money in the public sector. In particular, we will: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• be disciplined about government spending and reducing red tape;</li> <li>• raise education standards; for example, by setting national standards in literacy and numeracy;</li> <li>• increase productivity in frontline public services, like our hospitals; and</li> <li>• continue to look to reduce taxes to allow our people and businesses to get ahead under their own steam. (Government of New Zealand, 2008, p. 8)</li> </ul>
2010	We have implemented a significant programme to get through the recession in better shape than most other developed countries and we are now building on that programme to ensure New Zealand achieves a step-change in its economic performance. This includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• investment in productive infrastructure</li> <li>• removing red tape and improving regulation</li> <li>• supporting business innovation and trade</li> <li>• improving education and lifting skills</li> <li>• lifting productivity and improving services in the public sector, and</li> <li>• strengthening the tax system. (Government of New Zealand, 2009, pp. 1–2)</li> </ul>
2011	In 2009 the Government outlined six policy areas where we see material opportunities to lift New Zealand’s rate of economic growth and to reduce its vulnerability to future economic shocks. These areas are <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the tax system,</li> <li>• public sector performance,</li> <li>• education and skills,</li> <li>• science innovation and trade,</li> <li>• the regulatory environment and</li> <li>• productive infrastructure. (Government of New Zealand, 2010, p. 5)</li> </ul>
2012	The Government has a comprehensive policy agenda, which will guide Budget priorities over the parliamentary term. Our main priorities are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Responsibly managing the Government’s finances.</li> <li>• Building a more productive and competitive economy.</li> <li>• Delivering better public services within tight financial constraints.</li> <li>• Rebuilding Christchurch, our second-biggest city. (Government of New Zealand, 2012a, p. 3)</li> </ul>
2013	Budget 2013 will further support the Government’s priorities for this parliamentary term, which are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Responsibly managing the Government’s finances.</li> <li>• Building a more productive and competitive economy.</li> <li>• Delivering better public services within tight financial constraints.</li> <li>• Rebuilding Christchurch, our second-biggest city. (Government of New Zealand, 2012b, p. 3)</li> </ul>
2014	Budget 2014 will further support the Government’s priorities for this parliamentary term, which are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Responsibly managing the Government’s finances</li> <li>• Building a more productive and competitive economy</li> <li>• Delivering better public services within tight financial constraints, and</li> <li>• Rebuilding Christchurch, our second-biggest city. (Government of New Zealand, 2013, p. 3)</li> </ul>

2015	Budget 2015 will continue to progress the Government’s programme and priorities, which are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Responsibly managing the Government’s finances</li> <li>• Building a more productive and competitive economy</li> <li>• Delivering better public services within tight financial constraints, and</li> <li>• Rebuilding Christchurch, our second-biggest city. (Government of New Zealand, 2018, p. 1)</li> </ul>

List N: Government priorities as identified in the Prime Ministers' statements since 2006

Parliamentary procedure 'requires the Prime Minister to present a statement to the House [of Representatives] on the first sitting day of each calendar year, reviewing public affairs and outlining the Government's legislative and other policy intentions for the coming year' (New Zealand Parliament, n.d.). Accordingly, the Prime Minister's statement is made each year 'unless the first day marks the opening of a new session of Parliament, or the Address in Reply debate has commenced within the previous three months' (New Zealand Parliament, n.d.). Statements were not made for the years 2009, 2012 or 2018. Following an OIA request to Parliamentary Service, it was noted that this is because the previous years for these were election years and therefore the Address in Reply debates occurred late in the previous year (Personal communication with Parliamentary Services, 1 April 2019).

The below priorities were selected through a process of searching 'priorit-' in the soft copies of each of the Prime Minister's statements. If this did not produce results, the whole speech was read for its general structure to find the key points made. The text below is therefore adapted from Prime Minister's statement transcripts from Beehive.govt.nz.

Year	Prime Minister	Priorities
2006	Rt Hon Helen Clark	That means continuing to give top priority to our trade policy agenda of opening up markets for New Zealand. The second major priority area for the government this year and this term is ensuring that families, young and old, are able to be secure and have the opportunity to reach their full potential. There is an evolving New Zealand way of doing things, and a stronger New Zealand identity is emerging. It's important to develop that distinctive New Zealand style, identity, and set of community values. As a government we will continue to prioritise policies which contribute to a strong sense of national identity. (Clark, 2006)
2007	Rt Hon Helen Clark	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• I am also announcing today new sustainability priorities for the Government this year. Firstly, the Government intends to lead by example by moving the public service towards carbon neutrality.</li> <li>• On economic transformation, this year's Budget will outline the Government's decisions on new settings for business taxation, aimed at increasing innovation, investment, and growth.</li> <li>• On digital matters, last year's far-reaching reform of regulatory settings for telecommunications has ushered in a new era of competition in the market.</li> <li>• On families policy, the Government has major programmes rolling out and others are in development.</li> <li>• In housing, income-related and fair rents for State housing remain fundamental to the Labour Party.</li> <li>• In education, 1 July heralds the introduction of 20 hours of free early childhood education and care for 3 and 4-year-olds, with substantial uptake by the sector likely.</li> <li>• Reinforcing and celebrating New Zealand's unique national identity is very important to my Government. As I said in my Prime Minister's statement to Parliament last year, there is an evolving New Zealand way of doing things and a stronger New Zealand identity is emerging. (Clark, 2007)</li> </ul>

2017	Rt Hon Bill English	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The Business Growth Agenda (BGA) is the Government’s programme of work to build a more productive and competitive economy that will deliver more jobs, higher incomes and higher living standards for New Zealanders.</li> <li>• This year, the Government will continue work on improving the quality of our rivers and lakes, and progress work on a fair and equitable allocation system for water and discharges.</li> <li>• Investment in modern infrastructure is a priority for the Government.</li> <li>• The Government has a strong focus on delivering the skills needed for a growing economy, and will continue work toward our target of 50,000 people training in apprenticeships by 2020.</li> <li>• The Government will continue to support Māori development, with a focus on Whakapapa, Whānau, Whare, Whenua and Whanaketanga. The establishment of Te Mātāwai this year will support the revitalisation of Te Reo Māori.</li> <li>• The Government will this year continue to invest in new ways to support more New Zealanders to lead better lives.</li> <li>• The Government will this year begin rolling out the Safer Communities initiative, which includes funding for over 1100 additional Police staff, including 880 sworn officers. This investment means the police force will increase by 10 per cent by 2021.</li> <li>• In December, New Zealand concluded a two-year term on the UN Security Council. The Government will continue to take a principled, pragmatic approach to world affairs – being prepared to speak our minds when it matters. (English, 2017)</li> </ul>
2019	Rt Hon Jacinda Ardern	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The first priority of our economic theme is to grow and share more fairly New Zealand’s prosperity.</li> <li>• Our economic theme’s second priority, supporting thriving, sustainable regions, will see us continue to work this year with the regions to help them succeed.</li> <li>• The third priority in the Coalition Government’s economic toolbox is to govern responsibly with a broader measure of success.</li> <li>• The fourth priority underpinning our economic theme is the transition to a clean, green and carbon neutral New Zealand.</li> <li>• The work on our plan’s second theme, improving the wellbeing of New Zealanders and their families, is also supported by four priorities. The first of these is to ensure everyone, who is able to, is earning, learning, caring or volunteering.</li> <li>• The second priority driving our efforts to improve wellbeing is supporting safer, healthier, more connected communities.</li> <li>• Our third wellbeing priority is to ensure everyone has a warm, dry home.</li> <li>• The Coalition Government’s fourth wellbeing priority is a commitment to make New Zealand the best place in the world to be a child.</li> <li>• The Government that I lead is committed to building a better country that all New Zealanders can be proud of through modern, compassionate leadership that recognises the value of all our people. This theme has as its first priority an undertaking to deliver transparent, transformative and compassionate Government.</li> <li>• Our second priority under this theme is to build closer partnerships with Māori.</li> <li>• The third priority in our commitment to making New Zealand proud is to value who we are as a country.</li> <li>• The fourth priority supporting the kind of government we want to be is to create an international reputation we can be proud of. (Ardern, 2019)</li> </ul>
